Medical Assistance

Please note that medical staff must report sexual and domestic violence to law enforcement but that does not mean a survivor has to file a report if they do not want to. Patients have a right to a support person at a SART exam. The campus advocate can help provide transportation and accompaniment to the SART exam.

FORENSIC EXAM: To obtain a free forensic exam also known as a Sexual Assault Response Team (SART) exam, contact the campus advocate, Valley Crisis Center, or law enforcement. A forensic exam is initiated by law enforcement.
The forensic exam collects evidence for a criminal investigation. An advocate can assist with this process and provide transportation and accompaniment to the exam. The exam is time sensitive.

JANE DOE/ JOHN DOE SART KIT: This kit is collected like a regular SART exam and is also free. The kit is ordered by Law Enforcement, but the survivor does not have to release personal information or participate in the investigation process if they want to remain anonymous or are not ready to report. Law enforcement will provide them with a case number and store the kit until the survivors decide to press charges. For more information, contact the campus advocate.
